Thanks for downloading our Marketing Analysis survey.

Here are three things you can do to JUMP START your marketing programs. Take a few moments then give us call to see how AlphaGraphics can make your marketing more effective.

A - ANALYZE YOUR MARKETING EFFORTS

Few companies truly understand the total scope of their marketing needs or how current trends affect their marketing plans. At AlphaGraphics, we take pride in guiding our clients toward better marketing programs and to demonstrating key ways to attract more customers. The first step in any marketing plan is to evaluate your current marketing efforts then dial in on the best ways to improve performance. To begin, take a look at seven top trends in marketing tactics and compare them with your activities. Then, take our brief quiz to see where you rank in the marketing world. Once you know your score, contact your AlphaGraphics representative to learn how our marketing experts can work to GET YOU NOTICED and GET YOU BUSINESS.

B - EVALUATE OUR TOP 7 TRENDS

1. Multi-Channel Marketing - Integrate your Efforts

Broadcasting your message successfully means reaching out to your target audience across different, yet integrated channels. A multi-channel marketing campaign allows your brand to become an integral part of the customer's life. For example, a direct mail piece can send your customer to a personalized website ("PURL") with an offer tailored just for them. From the website, visitors can be encouraged to join your text messaging campaign, which can, in turn, drive viewers to "Like" your Facebook page for additional news and social media-only discounts.

By maintaining a responsive customer relationship, you will build a brand that will outshine your competition every time!

2. Print Marketing - The New, Old Cool

Print marketing continues to make a significant and growing impact on how businesses market to their target audience. With unique mailers such as dimensional pieces and personalized variable maps from your business to theirs, your audience will pay attention to your message.

Expect a strong ROI when using print marketing integrated with other marketing channels!

3. Local Search – Be Found, Be Successful

Search engine optimization (“SEO”) is changing to be more local- centric. With more users looking for businesses and services near them, ensure your site contains geo-specific targeted keywords and copy.

Social reviews of your business on sites such as Yelp factor into rankings and perceptions about your business. Negative reviews can cost you revenue and diminish your reputation. Strengthen your customer service and provide exemplary customer support with each interaction you have.

4. Social Bonding – Give to Get

Social media success does not necessarily mean having a large audience. Your followers want to have a continuing return on their relationship investment with you. Provide social-only discounts, news, and quality information to strengthen their loyalty. The more your audience engages with your content, the more likely they will see your posts in their feeds and share your content with their social networks. This means your brand stays top-of-mind, increasing the likelihood of a purchase.

5. Online Ads – Display Yourself

With Facebook’s audience at more than a billion users and commanding 1/3 of the display ad market share, social ads are where it’s at. Targeting key interest users with compelling ads can bring new awareness to your business and increase your social audience. User recall rates skyrocket after seeing friends “Like” an ad (Experian Hitwise). Be sure to build a strong social media presence that is informative, engaging and tailored to your audience.

6. Email Marketing – You’ve Got Mail

Email marketing is as healthy as ever. With an organically grown list, you can target and remarket to your customer base at will. Sometimes a simple email, offering a discount or special, can provide a boost in sales and interest. Remember to follow the 40/40/20 rule (40% offer, 40% list, 20% design) when crafting your message. Focus most of your efforts on creating a tantalizing offer for the right audience with a strong call-to- action and a succinct design. Do not forget to review the conversion and response rates to improve your customer knowledge and your future offers.

7. Mobile Marketing – Sell with your Cell

More than 50% of adult Americans use their cell phones to go online. With the average smartphone owner spending 127 minutes per day using apps, you need to make sure your brand is at your customer’s fingertips! Ensure that your website is compatible with mobile devices, update your social media and send your best deals to your best clients via text. To stay trendy, place a QR code on your marketing material, making it easy for smartphone users to locate your site.

C - RATE YOUR BUSINESS

This brief assessment allows you to rate yourself on several key areas, allowing you to see where you stand with your marketing efforts. For the best results, be honest with yourself on how your company is doing.

Multi-Channel Marketing

Online, print and mobile efforts should work in unison to effortlessly reach your customer multiple times a month. An effective multi-channel marketing strategy puts your best foot forward and drives your key messages, all while establishing a strong presence for your company and the products and services you provide.

Assessment

Circle the number that best corresponds to how your business rates on the following items:

Our company has devised and regularly updates a marketing strategy that integrates our online, mobile and direct mail efforts to reach new customers. We use display ads, a strong social media presence, and exciting print advertising to educate potential customers about our brand and our products.
